HYBRID -Imported- RHODODENDRON

Most of the listed varieties were imported from Holland before the war but are now produced in our own nursery.

Hybrid Rhododendrons are the monarch of all evergreen shrubs because of their excellent foliage, their splendid habit of growth and marvelous heads of flowers. They are not to be confused with the wild or native rhododendrons.

All named varieties of Bosley Rhododendrons are grafted, thus giving complete control over variety and color, which is impossible with seedling Rhododendrons.

Hybrid Rhododendrons require an acid soil but our grafted varieties are not exacting as to the degree of acidity. We will be glad to help you establish a successful planting.

We grow small quantities in many fine kinds not listed below. The varieties printed in CAPITALS are recommended as being especially vigorous.
